Bench

Double-or bench desks are gaining popularity. In many office setups the desks are placed back-to-back, the bench uses this setup, but instead of two desks the bench has two workstations in one desk, with the option of adding a privacy screen between the desks. It is also a highly practical solution for cleaning and cable management.

Paso 2

- Escoja el acabado del escritorio (Madera, Madera oscura o Blanco).

Beech top

Beech is a traditional choice, and many offices use it for tabletops. Fashions change, but the subtle colour and wood structure of beech is still popular. Beech is a great choice because its gentle wood structure does not pull attention from the room, which is why it is great when offices have many identical desks. ConSets beech surface is semimatte, the finish is modern, but greasy fingers dont show as much as a totally matte finish.

Walnut top

Walnut has a very beautiful wood grain and the contrast in the structure is not overwhelming, walnut is a pleasant and elegant choice for a tabletop. The ConSet walnut is a dark colour with a tint of warmth, the tabletop is eye-catching but not dominant. The surface is semimatte and durable.

White top

The surface on the white tabletop is made with a light reflectance. The tabletop finish is made this way so greasy fingers and dirt is less visible. Tabletops are meant to be used and cleaning should be minimal. White is very reflective, so if a room is brightly lit, this characteristic must be considered.

Paso 3

- Escoja el acabado de los herrajes (Plata, Banco, Cromado o Negro).

Silver frames, RAL9006

This colour would be called silver grey metallic if it were a car. Anyone who has had a silver-grey car know the benefit. It takes longer before it looks dirty. On a silver-grey height adjustable desk frame dust can almost never be noticed. The powder coating is durable, and the surface can be cleaned and look new in no time.

White frames, RAL9016

A white sit stand desk frame is neutral and a popular choice. A white tabletop and frame together achieve a calm and modern expression, contrarily the tabletop colour or wood grain can pop against a white desk frame. The powder coating is strong, but scratched can be more noticeable on a white frame.

Chrome frames

In terms of strength and wear, chrome is the ultimate combination, it is almost indestructible in an office setting. Chrome reflects its surroundings and has no independent color. The design of our chrome frame is classic, it must be because the material and design should last for many years.

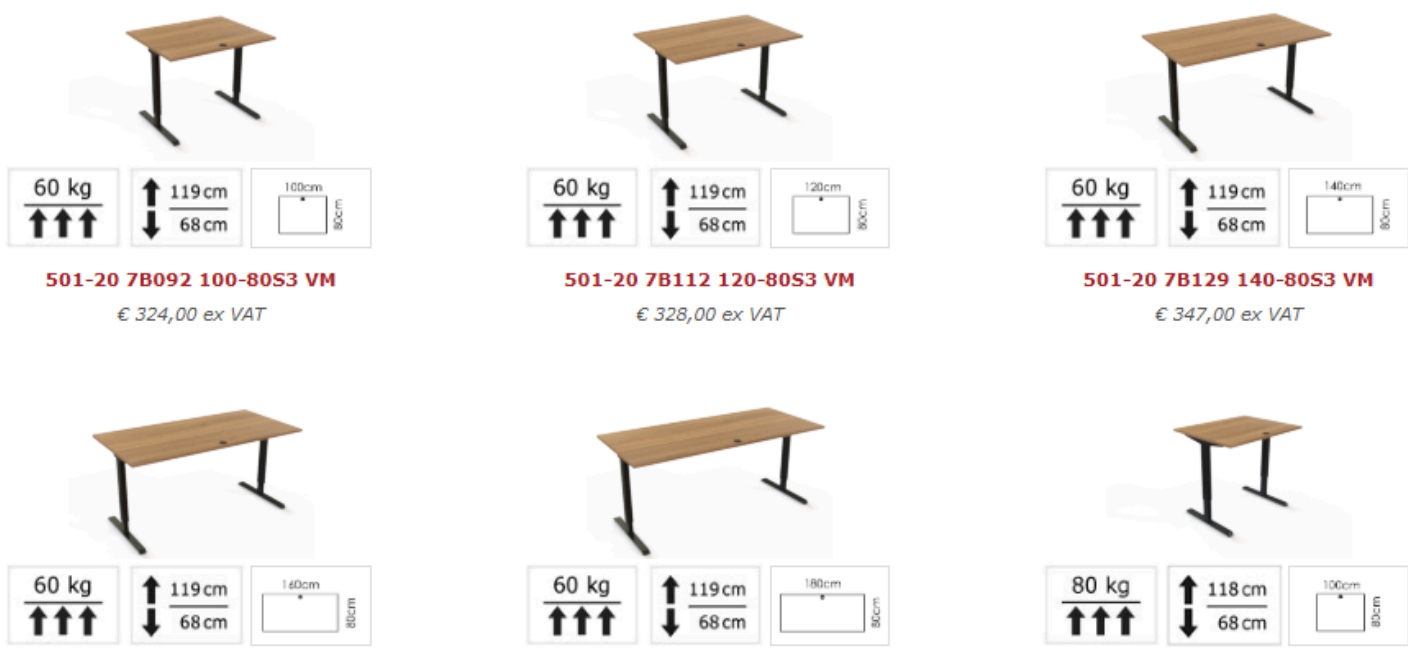

Black frames, RAL9004

Black does not go out of style, thats why a black electric height adjustable desk frame is a great choice. The combination of the black colour and the light sheen to the powder coating makes grease spots from finger far less noticeable. Dust however is noticeable on a black frame, but the frame can be clean quickly with a try rag, no special cleaning solution is necessary.
